LOVA School of Experimental Education 2016 (University of Amsterdam, NL)

'War, militarization, violence and reconciliation: Ethnographies in Queer, Gender & Feminist Anthropology' are the topics of this years LOVA's School of Experimental Education (SEE), to be held from July 11-15, 2016, at the University of Amsterdam (NL). As anthropologists and teachers we want to invite colleagues and students to participate in a week of learning, experimental style. The focus lies on learning ethnographic methods within the frame of feminist anthropology. We encourage experimental teaching and learning by doing. Take this school as an arena of freedom, where you can think aloud, make mistakes and be inspired in a friendly co-operative environment.

Research methods such as focus groups, observation, presentation, participant observation and new conversation / interview techniques are introduced. Small field trips and excursions are an intrinsic part of the program.

Summer School 'Gender: a Core Concept in Society and Science' (Radboud University Nijmegen, NL)

The Department of Sociology and Institute for Gender Studies at Radboud University (NL) host leading research on gender inequality and dynamics, to be held from August 8-12, 2016. The course is based on RU's state of the art research and provides an advanced introduction to gender in social science in an intensive one-week programme. The course will be team-taught by nine highly acknowledged faculty members from a range of disciplinary perspectives. It is designed as an 'advanced introduction': it (1) starts with explaining core concepts and approaches in gender studies but goes beyond introductory textbook knowledge; it (2) introduces a gender perspective and applies it to contemporary debates in society and science; and (3) uses accessible language, while challenging participation in thinking very critically of our knowledge, practices and perspectives.

Deadline for application is June 15, 2016.

philosophical argument.” The 2016 European Summer School for Cultural Studies departs from the idea that this warning pertains not just to philosophical inquiry, but across academic disciplines, from literary and media studies to law, architecture and the social sciences. It is of particular urgency in a rapidly globalizing world in which the legibility of flows of capital, goods (including cultural products) and people is seen as key to prosperity and security, and in a machine-- centric universe (Lazzarato) in which an ever--larger part of the texts and images that surround us are based on binary code and algorithms. The Summer School is to be held from June 20-24, 2016 in Leiden (Mon-Wed) and Amsterdam (Thurs-Fri) and is partially open to RMA students. There is a possibility to earn 5 ECTS if certain requirements are met. Deadline for registration is May 15, 2016.

Associate Senior Lecturer in Gender Studies (University of Gothenburg, SE)

Applications are invited for a position for a tenure track position as Associate Senior Lecturer in Gender Studies, at the Department of Cultural Sciences, University of Gothenburg (Sweden). The posted position primarily comprises research, individually and in collaboration with the research team members, within the project 'Spaces of resistance. A study of gender and sexualities in times of transformation'. The research project started 2016 with support from Knut and Alice Wallenberg's Foundation. The project explores the transnational struggle for women's and LGBT-people's rights in contemporary Scandinavia, Russia and Turkey. Bringing together multi-sited ethnography, netnography, discourse analysis and comparative analysis, this project aims to expand our knowledge about how collaborations between transnational organizations and local women's and LGBT-movements enable new collective identities and more complex understandings of gender and sexualities. The project is situated in feminist post-/decolonial and postsocialist theory. Deadline for application is May 25, 2016.

Women's Studies Grants - Feminist Review Trust

The research activities. feminist review | TRUST Feminist Review Trust invites applications for its grants. These support feminist scholars and activities. Grants are worth up to £15,000 (€ 19,000) each. There is a great shortage of funds to support feminist scholars and activities. This means that the Feminist Review Trust receives a very large number of applications. Unfortunately we have limited funds and can fund only a small proportion of the applications we receive. So, before you apply please note the type of projects we support and please read the guidance on the completion of the application form. Deadline for application is May 31, 2016.
