

The Netherlands Research School of Gender Studies, the Graduate Gender Programme and the Amsterdam TranScreen-IHLIA would like to announce two jointly organized public events with film historian and filmmaker Susan Stryker (University of Arizona, USA)

1. Amsterdam TranScreen-IHLIA: Wednesday 29 May 2013 | 17:00 - 18:30 hrs

Film lecture by Susan Stryker:

We Who Are Sexy: The Whirlwind History Of Transgender Images In Cinema

Join film historian Susan Stryker for a whirlwind ride through the history of transgender images in film. This program showcases rarely seen tidbits, ranging from the bad old days of guys in dresses and pathological trannies through the empowered self-representations of the early '90s and into the hot transgender best of the 21st century. Featuring clips from WE WHO ARE SEXY (KAMING MGA TALYADA), QUEENS AT HEART and BY HOOK OR BY CROOK.

Location: IHLIA-plaza, Hella Haasse-Simon Vestdijkzaal, Main Public Library Amsterdam, 6th floor, Oosterdokskade 143, 1011 DL, Amsterdam, the Netherlands.

Free and open to the public. Registration necessary (up to 55 participants): art@transcreen.org

2. The Netherlands Research School of Gender Studies/Graduate Gender Programme (Utrecht University): Thursday 30 May 2013 | 14:00 - 16:00 hrs

DOING GENDER lecture by Susan Stryker:

Christine in the Cutting Room

In a new media project that straddles the boundary between documentary and art, transgender scholar and filmmaker Susan Stryker uses the career of 1950s transsexual icon Christine Jorgensen to explore identity, embodiment, technology and representation. This program will feature an overview of Jorgensen's career, highlights from archival media discovered during research and a clip from the work-in-progress. With a response after the lecture by Eliza Steinbock (Maastricht University, Centre for Gender and Diversity).

Location: Utrecht University, U-Theater Studio T: Kromme Nieuwegracht 20, 3512 HH, Utrecht, the Netherlands.

Free and open to the public. Registration necessary: nog@uu.nl
